Chromebook Accessibility

Built in Features (Settings menu - Accessibility)	Google Doc's	Chrome Web Store
High Contrast Mode: Vision, changes background color Screen Magnifier: Vision. Control + to zoom in , Ctrl - to zoom out Onscreen Keyboard: tactile, touch screen Automatic Clicks: tactile, OT Large mouse cursor: visual, ADHD Highlight mouse cursor: visual, ADHD ChromeVox: Text to speech, spoken feedback	VOICE TYPING Use: for students who have a hard time physically typing or spelling. PUPIL PREF: Google Doc add-on. Use: Visual Impairment. Change background color to reduce visual stress. READER: Google Doc add-on Use: Reads text in your Google Doc. Chelsea Market font is similar to Open Dyslexic	Read a Loud: Web page text to speech voice reader(works on Google Doc's too) Announcify: Web page reader, blurs out unwanted text or images. Great for students with ADHD. Visor: Screen dimmer and reading aid, may help with fluency, eye-strain & reading. Beeline Reader: Applies color gradient from beginning to end of text. Allows you to read more quickly, Built in Opendyslexic Font. Works with Google Docs. OpenDyslexic: Overrides website fonts. Not on Google Docs. Google Dictionary by Google: Extension. Double click any word to view its definition. Add your words to the bank. Supports Foreign languages. Translates. Co:Writer ($4.99 m/o): word prediction works with Google Doc

these are just a few features, there are many, many more.